

Hybrid Schedule feedback

Exhausting x2

Give me another week or two, but so far, I have found it to be kind of energizing.

So exhausting

Sprint and marathon

Students are following protocols

Feels safe

Noticing students in clusters between classes

Hard to spray it all down between classes

My biggest challenge is remembering to do it. I've really only forgotten once, but the students the next period sat in opposite seats anyway (you maybe would have to see my room for that to make sense). But I took care of it later before the next group sat there. I haven't found this to be the time-sucker that I initially thought it would be.

Having to lock kids out of class to be able to get cleanup done.

Someone bought bottles so kids could spray down their own areas

Super quiet students

It's going great, actually. Obviously the problem is that we'll only cover about a third of the content as in a normal semester, but I like it a lot better than I thought I would so far. I think the good might outweigh the bad on this (as far as doing hybrid as opposed to staying completely online, which is what I was initially in favor of).

SEL Assemblies

35 minute classes makes it hard. Offsets classes if teachers teach the same course multiple times each day x2

Follow ups on Monday - Or do assembly one day and follow up the next. Helps balance A/B

Adding it to the end of the day for AM and the beginning for PM - for assembly schedule.

Are the assemblies live?

2nd period is safety focused, please no follow up during 2nd period.

Build the follow up into the assembly schedule?

Who is coming up with the follow up? Or what is expected in the follow up?

I'll comply and do it, but in principal I am always opposed to using class time for things like this.

Massive internet issues in music department – Consistently

Today in foreign language too. It wasn't just our meeting — I've had to send out reminds with instructions for the students today because my Zoom just won't stay open. And Canvas is painfully slow at times.

If we have better internet access at home, why can't we teach from home on Monday?

Push ins for tardies
