Time	Agenda Items	Notes
3:30 p.m.	Snacks Attendance McCormick, Harle, Devereaux, White, Feil, McLean, Busse, McPhetridge, Collins, Montgomery, Bitle, Janet, Ellwood	Snacks were served in the theme of Mad Max. Had they been of any substance, they'd have tasted like austerity and dust. As it was, they tasted like a mixture of oxygen and other gases.
5 Minutes	Operational/Building Issues	*Between this meeting and last meeting...additional rat issues. Exterminators are asking for everything consumable to be sealed up. *Cori M shared that there are stains in her area's ceiling that seem to be from rat urine (possibly leaks from ceiling). *Copiers are here...ricoh guys were here today training all the office secretaries. Total of all 7 copiers were replaced and new (not all are production machines some are smaller for local copies - CTE/Athletics/library) *Dawn M: Asked if we need to have training on them? *Eric: Kendra will put something together for that and be in touch within a few days. Don C: When are we looking at opening up the courtyard? Eric: We watch to see if the pond is thawed. We've had issues with students throwing rocks at the pond...rocks bouncing off the pond and breaking windows. So, we focus on the pond being thawed before we send kids out there).
2 Minutes	Update on Principal-Union monthly conversation	*Focused on copier updates and the confusion around field trip requests (Eric sent out an email last week on how to follow that protocol). *Dawn M: Asked about any further update about bond? *Eric: The board was meeting today regarding facilities. I'd expect to hear more soon from that meeting.
10 minutes	3 rd period refocus Review	Cori M: Wanted to start that she supports SEL, but had concerns about

		how there will be teachers/staff that won't do it and how that will be Dan E: There was absolutely no excitement about it but would try it if agreed with. Tara J: Same with Science Holly M: English felt mixed. Not all people felt comfortable that they'd be able to lead this type of thing. Tara J: We spoke to how it would be better if teacher's had more choice, like they can lead the moment the way they felt most comfortable. Koni: Foreign language felt similar to science and Dan's dept. Felt like they do some of this already. Dan E: Do we have a small group that can pilot this? Find out which method works best with which grade level. Eric: Remember, we looked at having all students and ALL staff participating. We know it's tough to throw something in during the middle of the year. Will go back to counseling dept to talk more about the "why" in this and come back with some ideas for next fall. Don C: There are different ways...he's tried a few new things. Started class with a Bob Ross videos.
	Washington state improvement framework data (our data now, comparative data when available)	*Unfortunately, WA State's server has been down for the past few days and not accessible.
2 Minutes	Admatch	Ask departments if there are any questions about the process or clarity needed. Next year we'll give teachers/departments a chance to opt out, but if they do, they'll lose access to those funds as well.
	Other	Tara J: How is the Student Recognition Calendar? Various discussion followed, encouraged departments to follow up for each month. Don C: Wanted to thank everyone for helping out, along with the allowing the students to help out, for the club fair. There was lots of positive responses from both staff and students.

		Eric: Please follow up with your ADMATCH entries if you have been selected to be a part of this. Regardless of if you haven't done anything with it, please fill out your responses. Eric said he would come and personally train you if you need to know how to do this. Don C: It was discussed last year to be eligible for LIT Funds, staff were required to follow up with admatch. Eric: No, that was discussed but we didn't follow up on that. We would like to do that next year for individuals that choose to opt out.
